Changing What's Possible

One of the country's most loved cities

Charleston, SC was named the No. 1 City in the U.S. Known for rich history, well-preserved architecture, a celebrated restaurant community and mannerly people, Charleston has been recognized for the fifth consecutive year by Condé Nast Traveler 2015 Readers' Choice Awards. Besides the historic attractions, the city is very livable with plenty of beaches, sunshine, year-round outdoor activities, great dining and nightlife, culture, arts and entertainment. The Charleston region, which covers more than 3,100 square miles is a highly diverse market, strategically located on the Atlantic coast, halfway between New York and Miami. The city's vibrant economy is anchored around the health care industry, the Port of Charleston, the military, a multi-billion dollar visitor industry, and a growing manufacturing and technology sector.

One of the country's top academic medical centers

MUSC educates and trains more than 3,000 students and residents annually, and has nearly 13,000 care team members, including approximately 1,500 faculty members. As the largest non-federal employer in Charleston, the university and its affiliates have collective annual budgets in excess of $2.2 billion.

MUSC Health, the clinical enterprise, operates a 750-bed medical center, which includes a nationally recognized Children's Hospital, the Ashley River Tower (cardiovascular, digestive disease, and surgical oncology), Hollings Cancer Center (one of only 66 elite National Cancer Institute designated centers), a Level I Trauma Center and the Institute of Psychiatry. In addition, there are more than 100 outreach clinics and telehealth sites.

MUSC is one of only three Magnet® designated hospitals in South Carolina. Developed by the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), a subsidiary of the American Nurses Association, Magnet status is awarded to health care organizations that strive for quality patient outcomes, while providing safe and positive work environments for care team members across the entire institution. Only eight percent of U.S. hospitals and less than one percent of hospitals globally attain the coveted Magnet status.
